

INSTITUTO TECNOLÓGICO AUTÓNOMO DE MÉXICO

DIVISION ACADEMICA DE ADMINISTRACION Y CONTABILIDAD

Licenciatura en Administración

Syllabus for

Marketing I
ADM-16601

Professor: Dr. Bruce McWilliams

Office: Santa Teresa Campus

Email: bruce@itam.mx

Office Phone: 5628-4000 ext. 6523

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The course is based on the premise that the generation of value to consumers, through the satisfaction of their needs and desires, is instrumental in the creation of value for a firm. We examine the role of marketing in the creation of this value, learning concepts that help us understand markets and identify opportunities, and learning to create marketing plans that arise from the evaluation, design and implementation of the appropriate marketing mix.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

MARKETING-1 is the first of 3 core Marketing courses that students will take for the undergrad program to learn the basic concepts of Marketing. In this course students will learn:

- The importance of Marketing in current organizations.
- The environment in which organizations are immersed and how this influences the plan development process.
- Concepts and steps involved in the development of a Marketing Plan through which organizations define the position and future perspective of the brands.
- The influence that marketing has for the prevalence and success of organizations.
- How to create / develop a Marketing Plan to overcome obstacles and align organizational resources towards future success.

COURSE DESIGN

- What do students need to learn?
 - Process of developing a systematic analysis of the market, competitors, and the brand position to present consumers.
 - Understand consumer preferences, define a target consumer, choose a market segment, and identify its size.
 - Learn the importance of market research in order to understand and answer unknown questions that influence the success of a brand in the future.
 - Understand what creates consumer value and satisfaction, and how firms can build customer lifetime value.
 - Establish pricing based on the company's or brand's strategies.
 - Understand the role of communication and identify how to use different types of promotional activities such as advertising, sales promotions and events and activities.
 - Be able to create a Marketing Plan and understand the financial impact in the organization.

- Why do they need to learn it?
 - The problem in the organization arises when companies and / or their managers:
 - Dedicate their efforts to solving short-term problems & tasks.
 - Do not have a systematic process to analyze the market.
 - Do not clearly define a brand segment.
 - Do not have clearly crafted plans, so managers have no clarity on the actions needed for future success.
 - To understand how to create greater economic value and competitive advantage than other participants in an industry.
 - In a globalized, constantly changing and highly complex world, organizations need to anticipate and react quickly to continue to be successful.
- How will the students learn?
 - Through teacher presentations and exhibitions.
 - By textbook readings.
 - With analysis, discussion and solution of Harvard cases and practical cases from the textbook.
 - Through conversations and teamwork.
 - With the creation of a Marketing Plan from its conception to the detailed programs for execution.

EVALUATION

Midterm Exam	35%
Final Exam	35%
Marketing Plan (Group Project)	20%
Individual Homework	10%
T O T A L	100%

METODOLOGY

The class will consist of lectures and discussions of marketing theory and practice, Harvard cases, and developing a marketing plan in groups. For the final project, each group will develop a marketing plan for a new product or service. This marketing plan will include an environmental analysis, designing and creating the new product concept, research to identify consumer preferences and potential demand, and identifying a strategy to commercialize the product or service to the consumer. This marketing plan will be evaluated based on its creativity, information quality, practicality, group teamwork and the integration of relevant class material. Groups will be formed at the beginning of the semester, and, once formed, may not be changed.

Textbook: Kotler, Philip and Gary Armstrong, Principles of Marketing. 18th edition, Pearson

Marketing I Course Outline

Session	Content
01 Mon. Aug. 7	Introduction
02 Wed. Aug. 9	Chapter 1: Marketing: Creating Customer Value and Engagement Dove case Select Groups
03 Mon. Aug. 14	Chapter 2: Company and Marketing Strategy Homework: Marketing Myopia Decide which groups presents what topics in Top 10 Global Trends, and presentation order.
04 Wed. Aug. 16	Chapter 18: Creating Competitive Advantage
05 Mon. Aug. 21	Chapter 3: Analyzing the Marketing Environment
06 Wed. Aug. 23	Team Presentations: Top 10 Global Trends (new trends)
07 Mon. Aug. 28	Chapter 4: Managing Marketing Information to Gain Customer Insights
08 Wed. Aug. 30	Harvard Case: TruEarth Healthy Foods (Objective: Market research and forecast demand for a new product)
09 Mon. Sep. 4	Stage 1 GROUP PROJECT PRESENTATIONS
10 Wed. Sep. 6	Chapter 5: Consumer Markets and Buyer Behavior Homework: Consumer Decision Journey
11 Mon. Sep. 11	Chapter 7: Customer Value-Driven Marketing Strategy (Segmentation and Target Market)
12 Wed. Sep. 13	Value of the market and Target Market (Numerical Exercise)
13 Mon. Sep. 18	Chapter 7: Customer Value-Driven Marketing Strategy (Differentiation and Positioning) Positioning Maps and Statements
14 Wed. Sep. 20	Stage 2 GROUP PROJECT PRESENTATIONS
15 Mon. Sep. 25	Chapter 8: Products, Services and Brands: Building Customer Value (Products and Services)
16 Wed. Sep. 27	Chapter 8: Products, Services and Brands: Building Customer Value (Building Customer Value)
17 Mon. Oct. 2	MIDTERM EXAM

18 Wed. Oct. 4	Exam Review
19 Mon. Oct. 9	Chapter 9: Developing New Products and Managing the Product Life Cycle
20 Wed. Oct. 11	Chapter 10: Pricing: Understanding and Capturing Customer Value
21 Mon. Oct. 16	Chapter 11: Pricing Strategies: Additional Considerations
22 Wed. Oct. 18	Harvard Case: Culinarean Cookware (Objective: Evaluate the pros and cons of price promotions)
23 Mon. Oct. 23	Chapter 12: Marketing Channels: Delivering Customer Value
24 Wed. Oct. 25	Chapter 13: Retailing and Wholesaling
25 Mon. Oct. 30	Stage 3 GROUP PROJECT PRESENTATIONS
26 Wed. Nov. 1	Chapter 14: Engaging Customers and Communicating Customer Value
27 Mon. Nov. 6	Chapter 15: Advertising and Public Relations
28 Wed. Nov. 8	Chapter 16: Digital Marketing Decide order of presentations for Final Projects
29 Mon. Nov 13	Chapter 20: Sustainable Marketing: Social Responsibility and Ethics
30 Wed. Nov 15	Practice: Profit and Loss analysis (strategies) for Pricing in the Marketing Channel
31 Wed. Nov 22	Final GROUP PROJECT PRESENTATIONS
32 Mon. Nov 27	Final GROUP PROJECT PRESENTATIONS
33 Wed. Nov 29	Course Review

CHAPTER OUTLINE

Chapter 1	Marketing Creating Customer Value and Engagement - Define marketing and outline the steps in the marketing process. - Identify the key elements of a customer value-driven marketing strategy.
Chapter 2	Company and Marketing Strategy - Understand the company-wide strategic planning process. - Design business portfolios and develop growth strategies. - Describe a customer value-driven marketing strategy and mix.
Chapter 3	Analyzing the Marketing Environment - Describe the environmental forces that affect the company's ability to serve its customers. - Understand how companies can react to the marketing environment.
Chapter 4	Managing Marketing Information to Gain Customer Insights - Explain the importance of information in gaining insights about the marketplace and customers. - Define the marketing information system. - Outline the role of marketing research. - Identify the steps in the marketing research process.
Chapter 5	Consumer Markets and Buyer Behavior - Define the consumer market and construct a simple model of consumer buyer behavior. - Define the major types of buying decision behavior and the stages in the buyer decision process.
Chapter 7	Customer Value-Driven Marketing Strategy: Creating Value for Target Customers - Define the major steps in designing a customer-driven marketing strategy. - Identify the major bases for segmenting consumer and business markets. - Explain how companies identify attractive market segments and choose a market-targeting strategy. - How companies differentiate and position their products for maximum competitive advantage. - Establish a brand differentiation and positioning strategy. - Define the brand positioning statement.
Chapter 8	Products, Services and Brands: Building Customer Value - Define product and describe the major classifications of products and services. - Define individual products and services, product lines, and product mixes. - Identify the characteristics that affect the marketing of services. - Understand branding strategy—brand equity - Identify decisions companies make in building and managing their brands.
Chapter 9	Developing New Products and Managing the Product Life Cycle - Understand how companies find and develop new product ideas. - Identify and define the steps in the new product development process. - Identify the stages and management of the product life cycle
Chapter 10	Pricing: Understanding and Capturing Customer Value - Define price and identify the three major pricing strategies. - Understand the importance of pricing in today's fast-changing environment. - Identify and define external and internal factors affecting a firm's pricing decisions.
Chapter 11	Pricing Strategies: Additional Considerations - Describe the major strategies for pricing new products. - Explain how companies find a set of prices that maximize profits from the total product mix. - Discuss how companies adjust their prices to take into account different types of customers and situations.

Chapter 12	Marketing Channels: Delivering Customer Value - Identify the major channel alternatives open to a company. - Understand how companies select, motivate, and evaluate channel members. - Discuss the nature and importance of marketing logistics and integrated supply chain management.
Chapter 13	Retailing and Wholesaling - Understand the role of retailers in the distribution channel and describe the major types of retailers. - Discuss how retailers are using omni-channel retailing to meet the cross-channel shopping behavior of today's digitally connected consumers. - Identify major retailer marketing decisions.
Chapter 14	Engaging Consumers and Communicating Customer Value: Integrated Marketing Communication Strategy - Understand the changing communications landscape and the need for integrated marketing communications. - Outline the communication process and the steps in developing effective marketing communications. - Identify the methods for setting the promotion budget and factors that affect the design of the promotion mix.
Chapter 15	Advertising and Public Relations - Define the role of advertising in the promotion mix. - Describe the decisions involved in developing an advertising program. - Define the role of public relations in the promotion mix.
Chapter 16	Digital, Online, Social Media, and Mobile Marketing - Identify the major forms of digital marketing. - Understand how companies respond to the digital age with various online marketing strategies. - Learn how companies use social media and mobile marketing to engage consumers and create brand community.
Chapter 18	Creating Competitive Advantage - Understand competitors and customers through competitor analysis. - Identify the fundamentals of competitive marketing strategies. - Balance customer and competitor orientations to become a market-centered organization.
Chapter 20	Sustainable Marketing: Social Responsibility and Ethics - Define sustainable marketing and discuss its importance. - Describe the principles of sustainable marketing. - Explain the role of ethics in marketing.